4. Customers with characteristics of vulnerability

The Product is designed for residential first-time buyers with a smaller deposit and/or lower equity in the property, which is likely to include some customers with characteristics of vulnerability or who will experience vulnerability over time.

For our target market, characteristics of vulnerability that may be experienced include those of:

- Resilience – outgoings exceed income, for example, more likely with those who have less experience of long-term borrowing like first time buyers.
- Life events – reduction in disposable income due to unemployment, ill-health, or the arrival of children, for example.
- Life events – relationship breakdown may occur, particularly during periods of financial stress.

Where we identify customers displaying characteristics of vulnerability, we have a clear policy to offer support and to monitor that customers in these circumstances continue to be treated fairly and do not experience foreseeable harm.

Please contact us if you need any further information about how we support the needs of all our customers in relation to the product.

Intermediaries should continue to comply with your obligations to ensure that you treat customers in vulnerable circumstances fairly.

5. Our assessment of value

We have developed an assessment process which evaluates several aspects of our business to determine the value of our mortgage products. This analysis is used to ascertain whether the product delivers fair value for customers.

We have implemented Fair Value into our pricing and approval process to evidence that we have considered fair value when we are setting the rates of our mortgage products and any fees we may charge. The outcomes of the assessment process are captured and reported, allowing for challenge and further investigation, before we sign-off the outcomes and share the summary of our assessment with you.

Our fair value assessment has considered the following:

Benefits	Price	Costs	Limitations
The range of features that the Product provides, the quality of the Product, the level of customer service that is provided and any other features that the Product may offer.	The interest rates, fees and charges customers pay for the Product, comparable market rates, advice fees paid to intermediaries and non-financial costs associated with operating the Product.	The cost of funding the Product and any other reductions in costs to the customer made possible by economies of scale.	Any limitations on the scope and service we provide or the features of the Product.

Results of our assessment

Our assessment concluded that the products continue to deliver fair value for the target market.
